

THE CHAIRMAN'S PERSPECTIVE

Globalising Young Minds

Powered by today's global information-technology revolution, an explosion of knowledge is expanding the horizons of education like never before. To keep our children abreast of these fast-changing developments is the very purpose of this school. That is why our far-sighted founders resolved that the education we impart had to be nothing less than world class right from the beginning.

This resolve underlined our introduction at the very outset of the Cambridge International Programme to serve as the international benchmark for student achievement and greater academic success in future. Being compatible with global education, it ensures that our children never fail to acquire the finest knowledge being imparted in different parts of the globe with the best of standards maintained no matter how innovative and diversified it may be.

To ensure a genuinely international perspective, and create global citizens, we have assembled a team of educators with vast experience from far and wide. They bring their broad global perspectives, and combine them with local expertise to produce a level of quality child-care education that is uniquely moulded to the needs of the children and parents in India.

Thus, the overall development of children at our school maximises their exposure to as many areas of learning as possible. Not just what is taught in class but holistic and lifelong learning beyond textbooks. We inculcate in them the curiosity to explore to the utmost of their capacity, using all the resources of books, CBTs, the Internet, and whatever else is required. For instance, through our in-house exposure to sports and creative activities, every student has access to professional-level resources to develop his or her talents and inborn interests.

Our educators also guide the young minds in how to practise self-discipline, good manners, an enlightened thought process, awareness of health matters and humanism among other character-building traits.

Basically, our school is not only for your children but is open to you their parents who are welcome to discover the ambience we have developed to create leaders of the future. I will, therefore, be very happy to discuss our work with you or answer any questions you may have.
